INTRODUCTION.

— 1358850

IN December, 1875, I had just finished printing my first little volume entitled "Nonconformity in Idle with the History of Airedale College," a book of 152 pages, with three copper plates, and photographs of five ministers and two officials. One of the plates gives a good impression of the gravestones then existing, and the back view of the old College House in which I resided, and the other plate gives the front view of half the College House, the rest being overshadowed by the Parsonage House. I have found very little to correct in that History, but I have met with additional matter since it was printed, much of which has appeared in the Chapel Magazine issued from 1893 to 1904, both inclusive. On page iv. of the Preface and page 43, the names of the Trustees are given as Messrs. E. S. Vint, Joseph Briggs, George Alfred, W. Jowett, and J. F. Garnett, besides Mr. Rycroft and Mr. John Stead. The first four are correct, but Mr. Garnett was not a Trustee. Shortly afterwards Mr. Joseph Hutton, Mr. William Booth and Mr. William Whitley Vint were added. In January, 1895, there was an election by the Congregation, when the new trustees were:—Messrs. Cowell Briggs, Alfred Vint, Ernest Rawnsley (now in Port Elizabeth, South Africa), Joseph Stringer, George Garnett, Joseph Horsfall Turner, William Keighley, Benjamin Ackroyd and John Slicer. These with Mr. W. W. Vint still serve, (1906.)

The lady who gave the Horton estate to seven Congregational Churches, Idle being one, was Mrs. Hutton, wife of the Rev. Richard Hutton, of Pudsey, and daughter of the Rev. Richard Thorpe, of Hopton, an ejected minister, page 146. Extracts from her will may be found in Watson's Halifax and in the Charity Reports. Since my book was printed Mr. Rycroft has died, and the oil-painting subscribed for by the Congregation has been returned to the Sunday School to be preserved as a memorial of the worthy man. A memoir of Mr. William Waite, who was born at Idle, Jan. 6, 1825, and became minister at Bacup, appeared in the Congregational Year Book, 1853.

Trust deeds enrolled in chancery respecting Nonconformist property in Idle have been, (1) Trust for Protestant Dissenters called Particular or Calvinistic Baptists 1818, (35, 16.)

(2) Presbyterian or Congregational, Upper Chapel, 1827, (55, 4, 5.)

(3) Rent of buildings, &c., at Idle in trust for Particular Baptist School, 1837, (97, 12.)

(4) Conveyance of land upon trust to be used as a Cemetery for the Presbyterians or Congregationalists, Upper Chapel, 1839, (142, 3, 4.)

(5) Methodist Chapel, 1845, (82, 4.)

(6) Particular Baptists, 1849, (100, 4.)

(7) Piece of land for Particular Baptists, 1853, (107, 2.)

(8) Piece of land for Wesleyan Meth. School, 1856, (58, 7.)

(9) Chapel for Unitarians, 1857, (21, 12.)

(10) Primitive Methodist Chapel and School, 1861, (125, 9.)

(11) Land, &c., for Independents or Presbyterians, 1862, (143, 2.)

(12) Trust, dwelling-house for Methodist Minister, 1862, (233, 8.)

(13) Unitarian Chapel Trust, 1862, (136, 10.)

(14) Land, &c., for Independents, 1864, (161, 10.)

(15) Calvinistic Independent Sunday School, Windhill, 1856, (63, 8.)

The Established Church, Idle, enrolled a Trust deed, Conveyance of land for a Parish School, 1847, (139, 18,) and additional churchyard, 1860, (73, 14.)

The Rev. Simeon Dyson resigned the pastorate in 1891, and about a year later the Rev. John Gleeson, then of Penrith, but previously of Kilmainham and Newry, accepted the call as minister. Mr. Dyson, after a few years' residence at Manningham, died and was buried at Upper Chapel, where his wife and youngest daughter had been interred a few years before. Mr. Dyson's great forte was as a preacher. The tablet placed to his memory in the chapel briefly notices his public life. His last public work was to officiate at the marriage of my eldest daughter. Mr. Gleeson, a native of Derbyshire and a student of Rotherham College, soon gained wide and lasting friendships amongst the congregation and the inhabitants of Idle and Bradford. He is a man of versatile powers, and devotedly attached to travelling and lecturing. Unfortunately he fell down some steps near the school and was laid aside for a long time, on two occasions, on that account. The year after coming he commenced a monthly magazine, with London insets, and a few pages of local matter. The first issue is dated January, 1893. This he continued until December, 1904, with one year's exception when I issued it, during his illness. From January, 1905, it was merged with the Bradford Congregational Magazine. After remaining a bachelor many years he married Miss Smith, of Eccleshill, who soon won the deepest respect of the congregation. Mr. and Mrs. Gleeson's generosity to all that needed help has been a marked characteristic, and now that they are leaving to take up Christian work at St. Nicholas', Ipswich, there is wide-spread sympathy and best wishes. He resigned his charge in March, 1906, and the Congregation expressed their regret, and their good wishes for his future success by presenting to him an illuminated address, at a crowded tea meeting, when all the ministers of the town were present or sent apologies. Tokens of friendship and esteem were given to Mrs. Gleeson. The story of Mr. Gleeson's work will be found in the pages of the Chapel Magazine, in which he was careful to chronicle matters of general and family interest respecting his congregation. No man ever could be more disinterested, or take more interest in the advancement of the young people in his flock. A list of the historical articles that I contributed to the Magazine may be added as a supplement to the history of thirty years ago. Details will be found not only in the Magazine but in the Year Books that have been issued from the first in January, 1895, to the present one for January, 1906.

A strip of land was secured in Mr. Dyson's time to give a better approach to the Parsonage, since then called the Manse; and the old Parsonage, or College-House, was pulled down, and the materials mostly sold to a contractor, except that a porch and bath-room were built with the best stones, at the Manse kitchen-door.

Our next move was to secure a field from Mr. Samuel Vint at one shilling a yard, and a portion of this has been laid out as the New Cemetery. Soon after, Mr. Samuel Vint sold us the "Manse" field, west of the Chapel and Manse, and generously returned the purchase money. I cannot give the area of this field, because it is part of a much larger one that had been partially quarried by Messrs. Vint and others. We had to build a fence wall on the north-west side, and beyond the mound at the west end. The area of the New Cemetery field is given on the large Government Map as 2.562 acres. Mr. Jeremy Ashton's gift of two fields in Highfield Lane, 1718, are still in the hands of the trustees and let for pasturage. They are numbered 260 and 261 on the survey having areas of 1.619 and 2.838 acres each. The area of the old graveyard and of the Manse, School and Chapel-grounds does not appear on the map.

We have purchased a large iron safe in which all the old and new deeds are deposited, along with the Marriage and Burial Registers. Mr. Cowell Briggs has been appointed Registrar, and I am his Deputy. The Sunday School Assembly Hall has been enlarged by adding two class-rooms at the west-end; and nine class-rooms and a kitchen have been built on the site of the old parsonage and its garden.

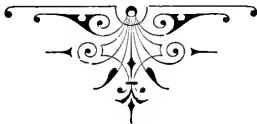

Miss Dyson for many years was the chapel organist, and on her removal to Manningham, she was succeeded by Mr. Chas. H. Pullan. When he removed to Horton, Miss Bertha Horsfall Turner was elected, and Mr. Jasper Townend became choir-master. There is a strong feeling that the next move for efficient services will be the erection of a new organ. Amongst the historical articles in the Magazine may be mentioned a series on Mr. Smallwood; the origin and history of Upper Chapel Sunday School; Day School; Mutual Improvement Societies; Windhill Sunday School and Chapel; Addresses at the laying of Memorial Stones for new class-rooms; notices of fourteen young men who have gone out from the Congregation as ministers and missionaries; Elkanah Wales; Chapel Jubilee; Upper Chapel Families; Contributors to the 1850 Organ Fund; &c., &c.

With some difficulty we have obtained large portraits of past Sunday School workers to adorn the walls of the Assembly Hall, and a similar portrait of the Rev. S. Dyson has been given by the family for the vestry. For a great number of years the west gable of the chapel, over the organ loft, has been in a dangerous, threatening condition, but a satisfactory repair has been accomplished. We are now hoping that in a few months the congregation may meet with another minister who will sustain the work and reputation of Upper Chapel, and I can assure him that the prospect of success can scarcely be exceeded anywhere else.

As to the Register herewith printed, it will be noticed that the date of a person's death is not the date given always on the Registrar's Certificate, and both of them may differ from the date given in the Burial Register. The gravestone may state May 5th, the certificate may be dated May 6th, and the burial take place May 7th. I find the certificate of a child, Abbey, but do not find the name in the Register of Burials, so possibly one or two interments have taken place and no entry has been made. I have printed all the certificates that have come into my hands, and a few for 1875 that I found in the vestry. All others I believe are destroyed.

The inclusion of the notices of the Friends' Burial Ground in Westfield Lane, and of the private ground at Thackley End, imperfect though each of them be, may lead to care being exercised in their preservation, and a more satisfactory system of registration. I have copied the gravestone records at the three remaining places of interment in Idle, namely, the Parish Church, the Wesleyan Chapel, and the Baptist Chapel. Perhaps these may be asked for as a separate volume. If so, I can add sketches of all the old families, many of whom have an unbroken descent for nearly four centuries, and most of them can be distinctly traced for two centuries. I was expecting to insert some of them in this volume, but limited space has prevented.

UPPER CHAPEL OLDEST GRAVEYARD.

THE oldest Chapel of 1717, and the one which took its place in 1791, faced south, with the back to Westfield Lane. When the present chapel (built 1849, and opened at Easter, 1850,) was erected, the old edifice was cleared away, but the foundations of the south wall may still be traced between the palisaded graves of Cowell and Smith. The Vint grave was within the chapel, the monument having been erected since the new chapel was built.

The oldest graveyard was directly south of this old chapel, and formed an oblong, with the old chapel as the north boundary; the parsonage (now destroyed) as the west boundary; the present assembly room was built in 1856 on the south of the graveyard, and the east boundary was occupied by some old cottages which were removed in order to rebuild the old Sunday School on the site, when the Manse took its place. This graveyard was evidently intended to provide for five rows of graves, and the gravestones that remain shew that the ground has been fully occupied, though by carelessness the three centre rows especially are very irregularly arranged. The register of burials is now at Somerset House, London, and to discover who are buried in the grassy plots between the gravestones we must copy the register at London. The neglect of the Upper Chapel authorities to copy this register, when the Government called up all Nonconformist Registers seventy years ago, is most provoking and unaccountable; and the apathy that Nonconformists have shewn in allowing them to be hid away in London is a standing disgrace to us. We ought to demand that the Yorkshire ones should be sent to York, or Wakefield, as a centre where they may be easily consulted.

There is a tablet to Mr. Vint, and also one to members of his family, on the walls of the present Chapel, see "Nonconformity in Idle," page 85.

Close to the rails, bordering the Westfield Road, are four stones which are not in situ: they were thus placed about 1876 when the road was widened. There are graves close to the chief entrance to the chapel-yard and under the causeway outside the chapel rails. The four stones record the burials, as under:

52.—RICHARD WATSON, Idle, died May 26, 1784, aged 66. Elizabeth, his daughter, wife of Samuel Walker, malster, Idle, died April 24, 1791, aged 23. Richard, son of Richard Watson, died Jan. 4, 1792, aged 30.

54.—SARAH SCURR, widow of Samuel Scurr, of Leeds, died March 23, 1733-4, aged 63. Thomas Bannister, owner.

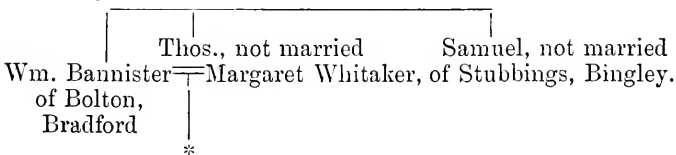

[The date 1733-4 indicates the year 1733 by the old style, when March 25 began the first month; and 1734 as we now reckon, January being the first month.]

55.—MARY LISTER, widow of John Lister, Bolton, died Nov. 4, 1782, aged 39; the stone was erected by her brother. She was buried at her desire near her late husband. Thomas Bannister, owner.

John Lister and his wife left no issue. I think her maiden name was Mary Thompson. Her nephew George Thompson became heir, and added the name Lister. There is a tablet in the chapel.

John Lister's sister married Jonathan Booth of Park Hill House, Thackley, whose daughter Mary married — Booth, Esq., of Idle Thorp. The issue of the latter were,—James Booth, Esq., of Fourlands, and Sarah Booth, who married Thomas Bannister, and Mary Booth who married Samuel Bannister, his brother. These Booths or Listers were related to Saml. and Sarah Scurr, of Leeds, (gravestone opposite Upper Chapel), and the Bannisters have a silver cup bearing their initials.

The tablets in the present chapel are as under :

1.—REV. NICHOLAS BEALE. "Here lyeth the Body of the Reverend Mr. Nicholas Beale, late minister of the gospel in this place, who died the 26th day of September, 1734, in the 28 year of his age.

This stone was discovered under the pews of the old chapel, which was demolished in 1849. I have recently added, with the approval of my co-trustees, the names of two other ministers, the REV. JOHN BUCK, buried at Bolton in Lancashire, and the REV. JOSEPH DAWSON, buried at Chapel Lane, Bradford. "Rev. John Buck, first Upper Chapel minister, 1715-1728, Bolton-le-moors, 1729, died July 8, 1750, aged 56; buried there. Rev. Joseph Dawson, Scientist, fourth minister, 1766-1790, died Dec. 11, 1813, aged 73, buried at Chapel Lane, Bradford.

2.—REV. JAMES HUTHWAITE, previously minister at Warley, where he was sometimes miscalled Huffit. Mrs. Sarah Huthwaite died May 5, 1763, aged 64. Her husband, the Rev. Mr. James Huthwaite, minister of this place, died June 25th, 1766, aged 77 years, Sarah his grand-daughter, died July 13, 1766, in her first year. [She was the daughter of James Huthwaite, junior.] On these two tablets are the names of the four ministers of Upper Chapel, 1715 to 1790, when Mr. Vint succeeded,]

3.—THE COWELL TABLET: inscriptions like the stone in the yard.

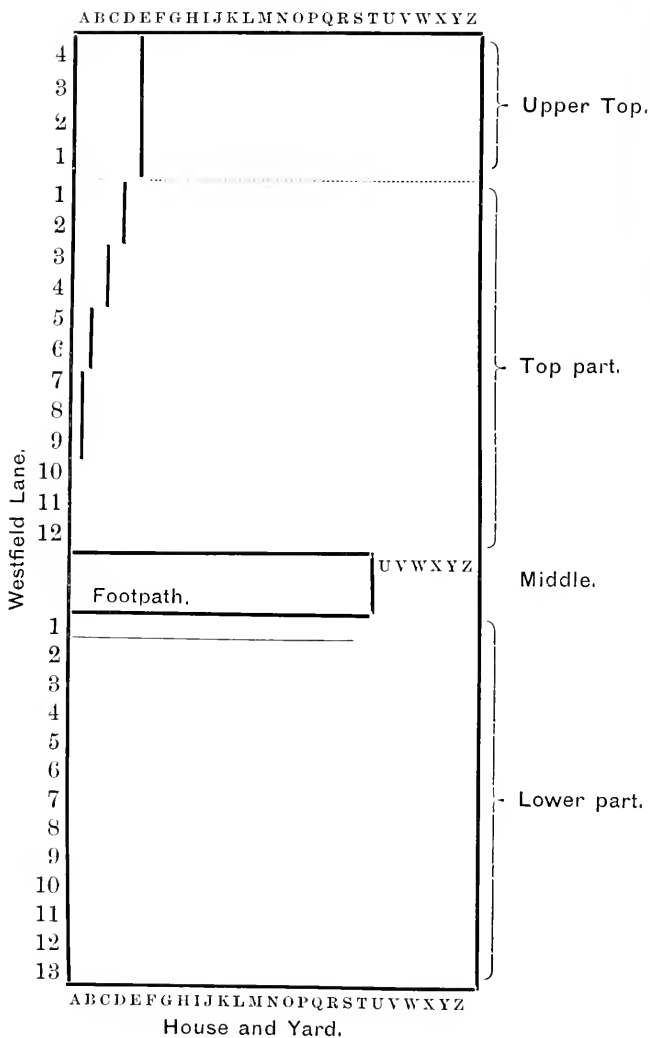

4.—THE REV. SIMEON DYSON'S TABLET, erected 1905, by subscription. "Rev. Simeon Dyson, 35 years Minister of this church, 1856-1891; 40 years Governor (including 11 as Secretary) of Airedale (United) College; 11 years District Secretary of the Yorkshire Congregational Union, Chairman, 1885; an able preacher, wise counsellor, and comforter in time of trouble. Born February 17, 1823; died Oct. 13, 1904."

These four are on the south wall within the chapel, and there is space left for a much-desired one to complete the ministerial list, recording the names of the REV. WILLIAM ATHERTON and the REV. HENRY OLLERENSHAW.

On the north wall we have:—

5.—THE VINT FAMILY. Mural tablet bears the names of the following children of the Rev. Wm. Vint:—Alice, d. Jan. 29, 1799, aged 2; Mary, d. April 26, 1811, aged 13; Thomas, d. March 31, 1817, aged 10; William, minister 16 years at St. Helens, d. Jan. 19, 1842. To these, mentioned also on the monument in the yard, there is added the name of Jane, youngest daughter, born June 13, 1818, died Dec. 9, 1895.

Crooked Lane.

[James, another son, is recorded on the Father's monument in the yard, and there are three more sons buried in the new graveyard (see postea), John, George, and Ebenezer Sharp Vint. Mr. Samuel Vint, the youngest son, still survives at the patriarchal age of ninety, unmarried.]

6.—SARAH STRINGER, wife of the Rev. Joseph Stringer, and daughter of Rev. William Vint, President of Airedale College, born March 28, 1811, died Sept. 17, 1838. Also of Sarah Jane, daughter of Joseph and Sarah Stringer, died Jan. 10, 1837, aged 1 year.

7.—REV. JOSEPH STRINGER. Copied into "Nonconformity in Idle," page 101.

8.—REV. WILLIAM VINT. Tablet erected by Ministers who had been trained at the Idle Academy (Airedale College) by Mr. Vint. See "Nonconformity in Idle," page 85.

9.—JOHN LISTER, Bolton, (near Bradford), erected by his affectionate widow. He was a tender husband and sincere friend. After having largely contributed to amend and beautify this place [the first Upper Chapel], he died Nov. 27, 1775, aged 45. Sarah Bannister, his great niece, wife of Thomas Bannister, died March 8, 1844, aged 58. Thomas Bannister, died Nov. 19, 1864, aged 84. See Widow Lister's gravestone, previously noted, number 55.

To these nine tablets in the chapel another should be added, to remove a long-standing reproach, bearing the worthy names of the REV. WILLIAM ATHERTON and the REV. HENRY OLLERENSHAW.

UPPER CHAPEL SECOND GRAVEYARD.

“UPPER TOP PART.”

Soon after 1875 a strip of land between the “Top Part” of the new graveyard and Crooked Lane, was added to the burial accommodation. A brick hut, tenanted by William Murgatroyd (who laboured for John Parkinson, the sexton or dog-noper), stood at the south corner of this plot. The place had been used as a weigh-house, or office, for a coal-pit that had been worked in the field purchased a few years ago from Mr. Samuel Vint for a new cemetery. This field was secured because, at a Government Inquiry, a neighbour opposed the enlargement of the graveyard to the northwards. The additional strip was barely sufficient to give four rows of graves, which are marked, as under, on the plan :

The Registrars for the Sub-district of Idle have been Mr. Matthew Balme, who held the post for a great number of years before 1875. and at his death Mr. Thomas Fallon was appointed. On Mr. Fallon's death, Mr. Jeremiah Turner got the post.

The foregoing are all the Certificates that are now preserved. It is to be regretted that there was not an iron safe at the chapel vestry until recent years, and that the burial certificates were not preserved in bundles. The only further information we have respecting the ownership of the graves, I find in Mr. Rycroft's neat account books, which we now preserve in the vestry along with a volume of his quaint flowery sermons, in his unique and beautiful caligraphy, and bound in red morocco.

It is superfluous to copy these ownership names again. Opposite each name is the entry of 5s., and frequently a second 5s. to shew that the full charge, including the admission of a gravestone, had been paid.

Grave payments received by the Rev. Joseph Stringer—totals £15. “330 certificates Jan. 8th, 1852, received for the new and old grounds.” We should now say the old and oldest grounds.

“286 are entered in the Grave Book on Jan. 8th, 1852.” This was after Mr. Atherton’s death, and the beginning of Mr. Ollerenshaw’s ministry. “This account includes all the money that I have received for graves and gravestones in Upper Chapel New Burial Ground: Benjn. Rycroft.

1840, Feb. 28, Jeremiah Booth, 5s.

1840, Mch. 24, John Booth, 5s.

1841, Feb. 26, Wm. Halliday, 10s.

1842, July 31, Benj. Raistrick, 10s.

1843, Mch. 8, John Booth, second payment, 5s.

1846, May 25, Fanny Atkinson, 5s.

1847, July 3, Joshua Bannister, 5s.

1846, Jan. 16, Johnson Bradley, 5s.

1846, Jan. 18, George Vint, 5s. Total £2 15s. 0d.

Mr. Stringer received all the money paid with the exception of the above sums for graves and gravestones up to the time of his decease. I may say also that the £2 15s. 0d. was absorbed in the Incidental Expenses.”

In 1848 we have eight more names, 1849 sixteen others, total for both years £7.

At the end of 1850 the sum had amounted to £12 0s. 10d.; Oates Berry for some reason or other having paid 5s. 10d. This included also 10s. from William Pickles for a grave in the oldest ground.

In September, 1851, the amount had reached £17 5s. 10d., which was deposited with the Bradford Banking Company, except £2 5s. 10d. At the end of 1852—the amount is given as £13 10s. 10d.; but of course this does not include the amount in the Bank. In 1854 the amount had reached £20 19s. 10d., besides a guinea given to Jasper Lee, for cleaning the ground. At the end of 1856 the amount is set down at £28 4s. 10d., and next year at £33 14s. 10d., and in 1859 at £39 4s. 10d.

Paid for asphaltting the road £3 10s. 0d. out of the last-named sum. At the end of 1863 the receipts had reached £59 16s. 10d. On June 13, 1864, the amount was augmented by a surplus of D. L. O. Collection, 50s. I only guess that these letters stand for “Distressed Lancashire Operatives.”

In January, 1865, there was brought forward the sum of £69 6s. 10d., which increased to £75 1s. 10d. by the end of the year. In Jan., 1866, there was returned from the Sheffield Flood Collection £4, which added to ordinary payments came to £81 11s. 10d., and 1867 six more pounds were added. At the end of 1868 the amount stood at £94 6s. 10d., and from this time the charges were increased, namely 7s. 6d., to seatholders, and 10s. to non-seatholders, with equal amounts on the admission of grave-stones. At the close of 1869 the Fund stood at £102 16s. 10d., excluding the Bank Account of 1851, (£15), which I think I remember seeing mentioned in the accounts as being paid towards furnishing a Day School that was established about 1868. In 1870, the graveyard account had reached to £112 6s. 10d., and the payments of 1871-2-3 brought up the sum to £145 1s. 10d.

Up to this time Mr. Rycroft, the Treasurer, had kept the accounts. I have not met with any manuscript notices since, except payments to ministers who came to supply during holidays:

1869—Brought from the old book, £94 16s. 0d.

Supplies—Dr. Raby 10s., Mr. Hornby 10s., Rev. J. Hanson £1.

1870—Mr. Holmes, of Marsden, £1., Mr. Cockin £1., Mr. Reynolds £1., Mr. Stanley £1.

1871—The tall student £1., Mr. Rowe 25s.

1872—Mr. J. P. Wilson £1., Mr. W. H. Dyson 10s., others £2 10s.

1873—House duty on the parsonage £1 2s. 6d., income tax £1 4s. 2d., on railway profits, &c., 9s. 6d. Supplies—Mr. W. H. Dyson 10s., Mr. Aitkin £1., others £2.

1874—Taxes, property, 20s. 3d., Norton's interest, tax 5s., parsonage duty 22s. 6d. Supplies—Mr. Reynold's £1., Mr. W. H. Dyson £1., other supplies £2.

Poetical and other adornments have gradually declined in Victoria's reign; and they had need when we find under the burial of an infant the words "Much respected," evidently intended for the grandfather.

The gravestone cutter needs to be watched sometimes, for on one stone there is FO for OF, on another he uses the dialect phonetic with the word Benjiman. I find much fault with some of them in making the figure 6 so square that it is hard to distinguish it from 8.

On the whole the grave plots are carefully tended by the owners, and the curator is annually paid by others to see that flowers are planted thereon.

I will close these remarks by some general notes, including a copy of the Magazine notice which has preceded the issue of this volume; and I have appended all I know of two small graveyards near us—namely, the Quakers' Ground in Westfield Lane, and Brown's Private Burial Ground at Thackley.

UPPER CHAPEL BURIAL REGISTER, IDLE.

Do you know any Church or Chapel that has a printed plan of the graves with the names of the owners, the persons interred and the monumental inscriptions? I do not know of a single one. Yet how important this is! The Burial Registers are often lost; strangers by accident or false claims are put in private graves, money is lost by opening wrong graves or full ones; and the plots become disgracefully neglected. There is not a graveyard in a thousand that has a plan. The Upper Chapel has a history dating from Puritan times, and the oldest of its three cemeteries dates from 1717. People have been buried in these graveyards from Idle, Windhill, Shipley, Bradford; representing all denominations, including Conformists. By consulting the plan anyone can find any grave they desire to see, and find the names of the thousands that are buried. Having copied the Registers and Gravestones I offer to print the result in a handsome volume which will be forwarded post-free for 2s. 6d., if 200 copies* are ordered. Send a post card at once to Mr. J. Horsfall Turner, Idle, Bradford.

* * This is the only notice, and the book will be privately printed. [*Be it remembered that only 40 names have arrived.]

GENERAL REMARKS.

After long experience I have come to the conclusion that there is not a satisfactory Burial Register in the West Riding of Yorkshire, and probably not one in the British Isles, either Conformist or Nonconformist. I am compelled to make two sweeping charges; first, they have been carelessly kept, and secondly, they have been indifferently preserved.

Very seldom indeed do we find a Parish Register ranging back to the year 1538, when Lord Thomas Cromwell's order to establish them was given. Generally we find them from 1560, or 1580, or after 1600; and these are more or less imperfect. The entries were made by the clerk in a paper memorandum book, and were copied annually into the parchment register, and attested in some cases by the Vicar and Church-wardens. The first books were paper ones, and this may partially account for their destruction. When parchment books were enforced, few custodians took the trouble to copy the old books in full into the new books. Sad havoc befel some of the parish registers where the vicar left them under the clerk's care, for it is known that where the clerk was a tailor he was wont to cut strips off wherewith to measure his customers for new clothes. I have myself found part of Ilkley Parish Register at a grocer's shop, and with some difficulty got it restored. I have spent hundreds of hours copying from the Parish Registers of Halifax, Elland, Heptonstall, Huddersfield, Bradford, Birstall, Mirfield, Otley, Bingley, Hartshead, Calverley, Keighley, &c. and am pleased that a Society has been established in the County to print the oldest books. In this line, already good work has been done; and several parishes have been favoured by the labours of private persons, who have undertaken the responsibility of printing the local Registers. Amongst the foremost I may mention the Rev. Thomas Parkinson, for two volumes of Fewston Registers; my friend Mr. John Radcliffe for two volumes of Saddleworth Registers; Mrs. Collins for two volumes of Kirkburton Registers; Mr. J. W. Clay for the Elland Register, one volume. I have helped to preserve the earliest portion of Halifax Register and the Bradford Registers in serial publications, and have printed Thorpe Salvin Parish Register. When I came to reside in Idle in 1873, I copied all the entries of births, marriages and deaths from 1574 to 1812, of such parishioners as resided in Idle and Windhill, but my labours therein have been largely superseded by the printing of the books in full, from 1574 to 1720, in three volumes, with notes, by my friend Mr. Samuel Margerison. Mr. Hartley Hartley and I copied the first Bingley Register, but our work has been lost for the same book has been copied and printed by the Parish Register Society.

The Record Section of the Yorkshire Archaeological Society was commenced by Mr. S. Margerison and myself, when we called a Conference at Leeds with the double object, first, of protesting against the removal of Parish Registers to London as proposed in Parliament by Mr. Borlase, and secondly of establishing a Parish Register Society. The Committee merged with the Yorkshire Archaeological Society, and although a flourishing Record branch, with thirty portly volumes now in stock, was the result, not a single Register was printed. The present Yorkshire Parish Register Society has had a more recent origin on that account.

Attempts have been made to improve upon the burial and baptismal registers at sundry times, but never officially until 1813. The Calverley Registrars, and a few others near Leeds, responded to a suggestion about 1750, to give the names of the father and mother and also the two grandfathers' names, when a child's baptism was registered: but the custom did not long survive, and was very rarely adopted. AS TO THE BURIAL REGISTERS I DO NOT KNOW OF A SINGLE PARISH REGISTER THAT IS ALSO A GRAVE-REGISTER. They never indicate where the person is buried, and unless a gravestone is preserved and continuously kept in situ, no indication of the burial plot remains. At one time, but not very long, some Registers gave the illnesses preceding the death, which might be of great use if adopted still.

To my mind, a perfect Burial Register should shew at a glance (1) the ownership of any grave, (2) its exact position,

(3) its cost, (4) the amount (if any) paid on the admission of a monument thereon, (5) the name in full of each person interred, (6) the age of such person, (7) the relationship to the owner of the grave, or some genealogical note for identification, and (8) the disease which led to death; and possibly, as in some old registers, (9) the trade or occupation.

A stranger standing at the foot of a grave-mound should be able to find out the number of that particular grave, and then refer to the Register, which at a glance will indicate the names and descriptions of all the persons interred in that particular grave.

I own a grave in Lightcliffe churchyard, and another in Elland churchyard, but I could not place a gravestone on either plot, because no person living has the means of indicating the exact spot. Where is there a church yard with a plan? Where is there a cemetery,—public, parochial, or private,—where you see by the books how many are interred in any particular grave, without wading through hundreds of pages? And not one in a hundred registers will help you even then.

To my mind the easiest way is to divide the ground into moderate-sized oblong plots having the letters A to Z painted on two opposite sides, and figures 1, 2, 3, &c., painted on the other two opposite sides. Thus G4 would be a reference to a page in the Register marked G4, on which all particulars are given. A Cash Book and the Burial Certificates will be sufficient for the annual casting up of accounts, received and paid.

However much fault I have found with the keeping and preservation of Parish Registers, I have far more to charge against Nonconformists generally. The Society of Friends (Quakers), have been the best in making true records of their membership, burials, &c., but even they leave much to be desired.

We can go to any parish church and find the registers carefully locked in safes, though much remissness did formerly exist. For historical purposes we may search those registers by leave of the Vicar, on paying a trifle to the Sexton or Clerk for the time that they devote in waiting upon us, and we hope that, at some early date, all the oldest books (say anterior to 1812,) will be safely housed under careful supervision at County Record Offices, to be established at York, Ripon, Wakefield, &c., and open freely to accredited persons.

I have agitated in the Athenæum and other papers for the establishment of County Record Offices for many years, where Parish and Nonconformist Registers may be deposited, along with the Sessions Rolls and other documents now in the custody of County Authorities.

Nonconformists have cause for great dissatisfaction, but I am afraid "where ignorance is bliss 'tis folly to be wise." Nonconformists of to-day seem to care even less than their ancestors to preserve the records of their history and genealogy. It is high time this apathy was removed. The preservation of the Parish Registers is highly commendable, but their value is enhanced by information contained in Nonconformist Registers. Indeed there is incompleteness in either without the other. WHERE ARE THE NONCONFORMIST REGISTERS? Echo answers where? You will find a list of the Yorkshire ones, Wesleyan, Congregational, Baptist, Primitive Methodist, Quaker, &c., in my Yorkshire County Magazine. These date before 1837, for at that time they were gathered together in London by order of Parliament and are now stowed away at Somerset House, where they are neither use nor ornament. Those from Idle are numbered as under—195.—Idle Upper Chapel, Independent, Births and Baptisms, 1790 to 1837.

196.—Idle Baptist, Births, Baptisms and Burials, 1810-1837.

197.—Idle Thorpe Wesleyan, Births and Baptisms, 1809 to 1837.

198.—Idle Town Lane Chapel, Primitive Methodist, Births and Baptisms, 1826-1837.

1395.—Rawdon Society of Friends, Marriages, Births, Burials, 1669-1837.

We naturally ask where is the Upper Chapel Burial Register from 1790 to 1837, and where are the Registers before 1790?

I have had tickets of permission to copy the most valuable documents in the Record Office in London, and also in the British Museum, but when I applied to copy one or more of these Dissenting Registers at Somerset House, I met with all the obstacles that officialdom could invent. I find it has been so for the forty years since then, and is so at present. I find I am only one of numerous Nonconformists, some of whom have ranked amongst our Leaders, who have been thwarted at every turn.

QUAKER BURIAL GROUND.

THE SOCIETY OF FRIENDS, or Quakers as they are generally styled, though the name was given them in derision, have not had a strong following in this township. George Fox never came into the township to preach, and there was never a Friends' Meeting House erected here, though some members of the Society, who resided in the township, got licences for preachings in their homes. In my "Nonconformity in Idle" will be found some notices of these places from 1689 to 1700, as well as persecutions of various members from 1660. George Fox had missioned the district ten years before the Restoration. Mention is made of James Marshall, 1660; Zachary Udall or Yewdall and Ephraim Sandall both of Idle, 1661; James Marshall fined again in 1670, 1682, 1686; and in 1682 and 1686 Ephraim Sandall was heavily fined. John Adcocke had a smaller fine imposed in 1686. Thomas Bowmer, of Windhill, and Ann his wife, and Sarah wife of William Denbigh, of Windhill, were fined in 1686 for being present at a forbidden meeting or conventicle.

In 1672 the Old Chapel was registered as the meeting place for Congregationalists at Idle, and Thomas Ledgard's house (Doctor Lane, now called Crow Trees,) for Presbyterians, as also Samuel Stable's house.

In October, 1689, the house of James Marshall, Idle Thorp, was registered by the West Riding Magistrates as a meeting or preaching place for Quakers, and Widow Hall's barn at Windhill was registered under the names of Richard Simson, William Garth, Joshua Sandall, and others. In July, 1689, the Old Chapel was again registered by the Congregationalists at the request of Mr. Jonathan Wright, preacher, but in 1689, August, the Magistrates revoked this certificate. Thomas Ledgard's house was secured in July, 1689, at the request of Thomas Ledgard and John Stead. At Wakefield Sessions, October, 1697, Zachary Yewdall desired to have the house he dwelt in at Idle to be recorded for the people called Quakers, which was granted.

Though there was no meeting-house built within Idle township, a small plot of ground was appropriated at the corner of a field in Westfield Lane as a burial place for Friends and their families just before the death of George Fox. Over the gateway is the date 1690, and within the four substantial walls are stone seats formed by the basement of the walls being wider. This style will be found at Ayrton and other old Quaker establishments, and was intended to accommodate the congregations when burials took place. The same style was adopted by Mr. Smith, of Thackley End, when he established his family burial ground, though that plot is circular, not square. In the Westfield Friends' burial ground there are three stones only, and one of them is blank. After 1700 until recent years the Friends seldom placed memorial stones in their graveyards. The two inscribed stones record :

“Here lyeth interred the body of Ierimiah son of Zachary Yewdall of Idle who departed this life the 31st of the first month Anno Domini 1690.”

The first month at that time began with March, not January. The second gravestone confirms this custom :

“Here lyeth the body of Benjamin Swaine of Thackley who departed this life the 23rd day of the First Month called March, Anno Domini 1692.”

Amongst the manuscripts of Mr. Hardaker. of Thackley, formerly of Calverley and Guiseley, I saw an office copy of an indenture respecting this plot made between Jonas Adcock of Idle, callimanco maker, of one part, and William Hustler of Bradford, Thomas Wilson of Eccleshill, John Grimshaw of Calverley, and Jas. Thompson of Rawdon, dated 1788, reciting that whereas Thomas Yewdal, late of Leventhorpe hall, in Bradford-dale, clothier, deceased, by indenture of Nov. 13, 19 George II. (1746), did grant, sell and convey to William Hird of Rawden, yeoman, Benju. Sandal of Idle, callimanco maker, Jonas Adcock of Idle, callimanco maker, and Thomas Yewdall of Leventhorpe Hall, clothier, the ground in the south-west corner of a field called Westfield, 15 yards square, then walled, fenced, &c., adjoining Westfield Lane on the south, land formerly Benjamin Bartlet's on the west, the Westfield on the north and east, for the remainder of 5000 years at a peppercorn rent if demanded, to permit and suffer the people of God who are commonly called Quakers, or that henceforth or at any time or times hereafter shall profess, maintain and hold forth the said Christian principles and doctrine, to meet or assemble together on the said parcel of ground when they shall "think fitt or have occation" for the worship and service of God or any other matter concerning Church fellowship, and to bury said people called Quakers therein from the parishes of Calverley, Bradford, Guiseley, Bingley or elsewhere in Yorkshire, and to hack, grave, dig, delve, &c., and to allow free liberty of ingress, egress and regress into the said parcel to any persons employed in making graves, and to permit the said people called Quakers to erect and build any house or houses for their meeting together, in walling, seating, &c. The remaining trustees to elect successors subject to approval of Rawdon meeting; those who forsook Quaker principles had to be disqualified forthwith.

From this it seems that Mr. Benj. Bartlet, a famous Quaker apothecary and antiquary, had been owner of the Carcase-end Farm. A few years ago the walls were becoming dilapidated, and no meetings had been held there or any interment made for nearly eighty years, I sent notice of this trust deed to Rawdon Friends, who on its authority took the responsibility of restoring the wall, and for about five years a meeting has been held each summer about July on a Sunday afternoon, by Quakers from Rawdon, Greengates and Bradford. At the first and second of these annual gatherings I gave by request the story of local Quakerism, with outlines of their principles. These addresses were printed at the time. Somewhere about 1825, the last interment here took place; his name was David, so I was told by an old inhabitant, and this agrees with David Yewdall's burial of 1825. I have not been able to obtain authentic records of burials here, either from Rawdon, Leeds, or London Friends' Meeting Clerks; nor from the registers hid away disreputably at Somerset House, and therefore can only add, by favour of Mrs. John Yewdall and Mr. Zachary Yewdall, those referring to persons of their surname. In my "Notes on Shipley, Idle and District" may be seen a view of the gateway, of this ground, and in my Magazine, ("Yorkshire Notes and Queries," and "County Magazine,") there are printed notices of the trusteeship.

Hugh Udal held of Sir Ingram Clifford, 53 acres 2 roods in Windhill in 1579 at the yearly rent of 16s. 3d. The survey tells us that Hugh Udale held at Windell by assignment from Peter Gibson, who had his interest from Thomas Clifford, Esq., who held the lease under Sir Ingram Clifford, Knt., and ladie Ann his wif., namely half of messuage called Windell, with barnes, &c., an oxgang and a half and a clea (or seventh part,) with Lathe Garth (1 rode), Hen bancke (2 rodes), Nether Broad Close (1 ac. 2r.), Upper Broad Close (3 ac. 1 r.), East Nether Broad Close (2 ac. 1 r. 4 perches), Laverack Roide Close (6 ac. 1 r. 16 p.), Collinge Close (3 r.), New Inge, Leaz, Little Close, Brear Close, Brome Closes, Long Carrs, Birk Roide, Cock Gladdinge, Inge Spots, with common pasture.

Hugh Yewdale or Udale died in 1604, and his will was proved at York the same year. His son Walter was the father of Zachary, born 1638, who conveyed the burial plot in Westfield Lane, which bears the date 1690 over the doorway. Thomas Yewdall, of Leventhorpe Hall, Thornton, was son of Zachary and father of Jeremiah, born Dec. 24, 1705. Thomas Yewdall's wife was named Grace. Jeremiah was father of William, born at Haigh Hall, Greengates, in 1760. The Rev. Zachary Yewdall, the famous Wesleyan Methodist travelling preacher, whose portrait and memoir appear in the Methodist Magazine, was one of the sons of the Haigh Hall, Eccleshill, family.

In 1668, Widow Yewdall was taxed at 6d. for a War Fund, and in 1692 Zachary Yewdall was charged 9s. 4d. assessment for the War Fund, and he was one of the two collectors. In 1707, Thomas Yewdall paid the Constable rate, Idle.

Judith, wife of Zachariah Yewdall of Ollerton, was buried at Calverley, 1760.

John Yewdall married Sarah, daughter of William Mitchell of Rawdon; their son Mitchell Booth Yewdall, of Idle, was baptised in 1824. John Yewdall died in 1839, aged 62; Sarah Teale, his wife, in 1858, aged 77.

On a very old stone bearing the name of John Bucke, in Calverley Churchyard, there is also the inscription, Elizabeth Yewdall, died April 7, 1831, aged 78.

Yewdall David, 1825, xii., 20, aged 67, of Idle, buried on 25th at Bradford (? if Idle.)

Thomas Yewdall, who married Grace Parker, and their son Thomas, whose wife's name was Elizabeth, were trustees of the Westfield Ground in 1746. Jeremiah Yewdall, who was born at Idle, went to Leventhorpe in Bradford-dale with his father, but they returned to Idle, leaving Thomas, the twin son, at Leventhorpe. Jeremiah had married firstly Mary Adcock, and secondly Sarah Ogden, but was disowned by the Friends on the latter occasion because the ceremony was performed by a priest. Their son William, of Haigh Hall, born 1760, died 1829, was father of David, who died at Calverley in 1874, and grandfather of Messrs. John and Zachary Yewdall, the latter now residing at Calverley. The pedigree thus gives a clear run for more than three hundred and fifty years, and there are few families, yeomanry or gentry in the West Riding, that can equal the Yewdalls with proofs so reliable and centralized in one township.

Hugh Yewdall, of 1578, must have been born before 1550. It is likely that he was of the same family as Nicholas Udal, the famous Puritan author, and I am of opinion they can be traced to the Yewdalls, or Udalls, of Yewdale in Westmorland, though the family tradition inclines to a French origin. Walter, Hugh's son, died in 1604, and was succeeded by his son Zachary, who established the Friends' Burial Ground. His son Thomas was the father of Jeremiah, the father of William, of Greengates, who died in 1829, the father of David, who died at Calverley in 1874 the father of Zachariah, who now resides at Calverley, the father of several sons, one of whom bears the old family name Zachary, and another, Frank, died at Lahore in India last year.

PRIVATE BURIAL GROUND AT THACKLEY.

This ground owes its origin for burial purposes to the disownment of the daughter of William and Ann Smith of Thackley-end, as a quaker, for having been married by a protestant priest. The daughter and only child, Lucy Ann Smith, married first Dr. Rawson, and secondly William Brown, son of John Brown.

The Rawsons have been a very important family in Wrose and Idle for many generations, but we have now only space to give brief notices of three generations, beginning with John Rawson, physician, of Crow Trees, after whom the well-known places—Rawson Square and Doctor Lane in Idle, are named. His widow Elizabeth died in 1772, aged 87. They had at least three children, Elizabeth baptised at Calverley Church in 1730, Mary baptised there in 1733, and John, baptised in 1728. He succeeded his father, and became the second Dr. John Rawson, surgeon, and died in 1784, his widow Hannah surviving until 1810, aged 77. They had a large family, including—William baptised 1754, Mary 1756, John 1760, Hannah 1768, Elizabeth 1771, and a daughter Martha died in 1763. John, baptised 1760, became the third Dr. John Rawson, surgeon and apothecary, and married the before-named Lucy Ann Smith, of Thackley End, only child of the Quaker Smiths.

Dr. John and Lucy Ann Rawson had three children, (1) Martha, born August, 1786, mother of John Whitehead Rawson, who died August 29, 1868, aged 58; she married the Rev. — Frearson, Baptist Minister. She died Jan. 14, was buried Jan. 18, 1867, aged 80: (2) William Smith Rawson, died 1789, aged 1 year, for whose interment the Thackley ground was set apart for burials, because the Society of Friends refused permission to bury the infant in the ground in Westfield Lane: (3) Mary Rawson, born June 24, 1790, married a Mr. Law, and had a son George. Dr. John Rawson (the third,) died in 1790, aged 30, and was buried at Thackley.

Mrs. Rawson, the widow, next married WILLIAM BROWN, and their children were—(4) John, born 1795, registered at Calverley but not baptised at the Church, died July 16, 1852, aged 57, unmarried: (5) William Brown, born 1797, registered at Calverley, died April 27, 1881, buried at Thackley, May 3rd, aged 84; unmarried: (6) Thomas Brown, born 1799, registered at Calverley Church, died May 19, 1858, aged 59. His wife Elizabeth died Dec. 1, 1834, aged 36, and their children were—Ann Elizabeth, married Richard White; Margaret, married William Raistrick; Ellen, unmarried; Mary, married Jonas Hodgson; Hannah, unmarried; and four who died in infancy: (7) Edward, born in 1801, was buried at Idle Church. His wife was a Miss Scott, and their children were—Edward, William, Peter, and Thomas Scott Brown, a Primitive Methodist Minister: (8) Margaret Ann, born 1803, died Jan. 30, 1872, aged 68; she had married John Russell, who died Jan. 6, 1869, aged 64; and their children were—Levi, Smith, Elizabeth, who all died in infancy, Mary, William, who died March 20, 1875, aged 36, and married and left a family, Martha who married Robert Kendall and had a family, James, the father of Smith Russell, (died Nov. 2, 1869, aged 6), Oliver, and Sarah Ann Russell, who married John Kitchen, whose children as under are buried at Thackley,—Sarah Ann, d. Nov. 6, 1872, aged 4, Sarah Jane, d. July 23, 1883, aged 5; John Harold, d. July 5, 1881, aged six months, John, d. Feb. 27, 1869, aged 7, James, d. Nov. 5, 1870, aged 6: (9) Lucy Ann Brown, died June 27, 1847, aged 42, having married Samuel Brayshaw, who died June 12, 1856, aged 55. They had a large family—Ann, born Nov. 6, 1828, died Dec. 8, 1829; Ann, died 1845, aged 12; Edward, died 1845, aged 4; William born Aug. 30, 1826, died April 5, 1886. His first wife, Hannah Kendall died in Easter-week, 1856. William Brayshaw buried at Thackley four children as under.—Alice, about 1857, aged 1; Lucy, about 1859, aged 9; Martha Ann, Nov. 1864, aged 4, Lucy Ann, Nov. 1864, aged 2. Lucy Ann Brayshaw (sister of William,) died June 17, 1851, aged 16. Their brother Peter Smith Brayshaw died about 1843; their sister Sarah died Feb. 11, 1832, aged 1. and there was another sister named Emma. (10) Peter Brown, surgeon, of Failsworth near Manchester, died Sept. 22, 1875, aged 68; his wife Hannah died Jan. 19, 1869, aged 49. They had four children—James Edward, Mary Ann, Sarah Ann, and William Smith Brown, the last named married and had a family. He died in 1889.

The father and mother of these children (numbered 4 to 10) were buried at Thackley, namely, William Brown, who died March 20, 1812, aged 40. when the funeral ceremony was performed by the Rev, William Vint, minister of the Independent Chapel, Idle; and Lucy Ann Brown, (formerly Lucy Ann Rawson, daughter of William Smith, who established the burial place,) died Dec. 6, 1843, aged 77.

William Smith, I believe, left a small endowment for maintaining the ground in order, and secured a right of way over the adjacent common-land, now no longer common. At the right hand side of the wood, at the bottom, is Scout Willie's well, formerly noted for its curative properties. I have a small volume on the Rev. Thomas Scott Brown, and have seen a poem entitled Brown's Wood, composed by another Primitive Methodist, the Rev. J. Lowther Ellis, beginning—“Worthy a poet's muse, thou grand old wood!

For generations hast thou proudly stood.”

A stone built into the wall records that “This place is set apart by William Smith, 1790, for a burying place for his own family for ever.” Over the gateway is a stone bearing the initials of William and Ann Smith, 1790; and there is also a door way into the field. The plot is nearly circular, and the base of the wall is built up to make seats all around. There are about seventeen grave-mounds without gravestones. One grave has rough edgestones without inscription, and another has a table gravestone unlettered, and a third stone is prostrated but may have an inscription on the under side.

Those now erected are (1) A slender, raised stone, blank. (2) A stone overturned. (3) To the memory of William Smith, the proprietor, died 26 Oct., 1791, aged 63, and of Ann, his wife, Jan. 8th, 1807, aged 73. (4) Three children of Thomas and Elizabeth Brown, who died in infancy; also of said Elizabeth, died Dec. 1, 1834, aged 36; also of the said Thomas, died May 19, 1838, aged 59. (5) Of John Russell, died Jan. 7, 1869, aged 64; and of Margaret Ann his wife, died Jan. 30, 1872, aged 68. (6) Of Thomas Vincent, died Nov. 10, 1818, aged 36.

“Tho' Boreas Blasts & Neptune's Waves
Have tossed me to & fro'
In spight of all by God's decree
I harbour here below.
Where I do now at Anchor ride
With many of our fleet,
Yet once again I must set sail
Our Admiral Christ to meet.”

[He is said to have been a marine surgeon in the navy. He is supposed to have married Mary Brown on a run-away wedding at Gretna Green, when she was a minor, and they were again legally married about 1811.]

Also of Mary Law, widow of the above (T. Vincent,) and wife of George Law, born June 21, 1790, died April 18, 1856.

Christ is all and in all.

(7.) William Smith Rawson, son of John and Lucy Ann Rawson, died Dec. 31, 1789, in the second year of his age; also of John Rawson, surgeon and apothecary, father of the above, died Dec. 27, 1790, in his 31st year.

(8.) Of William Brown, died March 30, 1812, aged 40 years; also of Lucy Ann, his wife, died Dec. 6, 1843, aged 77; also of John Smith Brown, their son, died July 16, 1852, aged 57; also of William, their son, died April 27, 1881, aged 84.

(9.) Of the children of Peter Brown, surgeon, Failsworth, (near Manchester,) and Hannah his wife, viz., Sarah Ann, born April 19, 1843, died June 19, 1843; Mary Ann, born March 19, 1852, died Feb. 22, 1855; James Edward, born March 17, 1854, died Nov. 8, 1857. Also of the said Hannah Brown, died Jan. 19, 1869, aged 49; also said Peter, died Sep. 22, 1875, aged 68.

George William son of William Smith Brown, dentist, Failsworth, and Sarah Elizabeth his wife, died Oct. 4, 1881, aged ten months: Florence Edith, their child, died Dec. 13, 1885, aged 6: Ernest, died in infancy Nov. 12, 1887: William Smith Brown, dentist, April 3, 1889, aged 41: Ada Theresa, his daughter, died May 23, 1889, aged 3.

On the same stone as "Thomas Brown," there has been added the name of his daughter, Ann Elizabeth White, wife of Richard White, M.A., of Habberley Rectory, died Dec. 1, 1893, aged 76.

A stone recently erected gives the name of Emma Brayshaw, died March 14, 1905, aged 69.

From funeral cards and oral testimony the following information has been gleaned:

Edith, dau. William and Sarah Jane Hodgson, d. Mch. 25, 1875, aged 8 months.

Annie Louisa, dau. of Thomas Hodgson, of Windhill Woodend, d. May 31, 1877, aged 2 years 2 months.

Arthur, son of William Hodgson, of Windhill Woodend, d. April 16, 1879, aged 6 months.

Mary, wife of Jonas Hodgson, Idle, d. June 25, 1856, 31.

Samuel Brayshaw, of Shipley, buried at Thackley, Sept. 3, 1901, aged 40. He was son of William Brayshaw. The Baptist Minister, Shipley, officiated.

All buried at Thackley Cemetery.
